

BABY DISAPPEARS; HIS IMAGE IS FOUND

Despite Resemblance, Mother Is Sure Subway Waif Is Not Her Son.

Mrs. Anna Koskinen, a comely young Finnish woman, rocked backward and forward last night in the sitting room of her tiny flat on the sixth floor of 211 West 146th street and wiped her swollen eyelids with a handkerchief.

to-morrow, but there isn't much I can tell about it because I don't know. About half past twelve yesterday afternoon, I guess it was, my friend Mrs. Sophie Last, who lives here in the house, and I started over to Callan's department store at Third avenue and 121st street to do a little shopping. We both of us wheeled our babies in their baby carriages, and it's only the fourth time that I've ever taken mine outdoors—twice before in his carriage and once when I held him in my arms.

An Offering of Particular Interest

THE BATIK—

Tye-dyed Blouses

Special, 15.00

An Innovation—at once gorgeous and unique. Blouses of gossamer chiffon and metal cloth assuming the radiance of the Orient in colors that reflect the softest tones of dawn—the dazzling shafts of a sunset—the shimmering reflections of moonlight.

Through the art of wonderful dye-work these blouses are born—fantastic patterns expressing all the mystery and romance of far countries are given colors that glow and glimmer and wane to the softest pastels. Then they are fashioned into bewitching blouses.

SAYS HARBOR TUBE COULD PAY WAY

Staten Island Committee Presents Plan to Offset Tunnel's Cost.

Replying to the statements of the Board of Estimate that the city did not have the money at this time to build a subway to Staten Island, the committee of citizens of Richmond borough yesterday presented a plan which, they declare, would enable the improvement to pay its own way.

Besides providing extensive increase in port facilities and making the great area of Richmond borough available for residence, commerce and manufacturing," the committee says, "the plan of Lewis H. Rabbage has the unique advantage of paying for itself in the creation of valuable areas by the conversion of useless shoals into highly profitable islands, in addition to the revenues from the subway and the increase of the city's resources by the development of Staten Island."

The proposed route lies from the Battery by tunnel to Ellis Island, then by tube and open cut to Robbins Reef, thence by tunnel to St. George and from there by elevated structure to Tottenville.

The following from the report of Mr. Rabbage indicates what he has in mind:

"The shoal waters of the upper bay over the ridge of rock between Ellis Island and Robbins Reef to be filled in, creating land for an ideal port terminal, having a mile and a half of deep water docks, warehouses and freight yards; a coaling station for cargo vessels; landing field, hangars and repair shops to care for rapidly increasing air service; freight and passenger ferries to connect with the railroad terminal and a power plant to supply subway and new area with light, heat and power."

BEAUTIFUL GILETS

At Inviting Prices

The Gilet needs no introduction. It wound its way into feminine hearts earlier in the season. Never was an accessory so warmly welcomed—and well it deserved the reception, for it has undeniable charm, and great usefulness. The suit assumes a fresh, spring-like appearance when a Gilet is worn with it—and the summer frock takes on added charm.

Illustrated are some that reflect the quintessence of loveliness—veritable creations of fine Net or Organdy in White and dainty colors. Note the becoming collars on some and the novel arrangements of tucks, puffings and tiny frills of dainty Valenciennes Lace.
